Dear parents and carers,

It has been brought to our attention that the popular social media app 'Snapchat' now has a new feature called Snap Maps. This feature allows others to accurately pin point where you are by zooming in onto pictures bringing up a map.

Children sharing their exact location could potentially put them at risk.

Snapchat has updated their privacy settings allowing Snap Maps to be turned off and the user to be in 'Ghost mode'.

Please follow the link to an article published by Child Net demonstrating how to change Snapchat settings.
